March 21, 2007; Ann Arbor, MI – MacBeedon Partners, L.L.C. is proud to announce the creation of EdgeHealth, LLC. EdgeHealth is Michigan based healthcare company that will be focused on improving the overall quality of healthcare and treatment options available in the United States. The first product offered by EdgeHealth LLC is targeted to treat a wide range of neuro-muscular dysfunctions such as pain or motion restriction. Extensive clinical experience has shown that a high percentage of such cases can be treated by properly isolating and stimulating neuro-muscular connections that have been suppressed as the result of injury or strain. EdgeHealth will address this market need by partnering with Redcord AS to provide a fully developed product and integrated conditioning regimen that has been engineered to provide full and convenient access to a new treatment option.

In addition to MacBeedon Partners CEO Richard Beedon and COO Kevin Wittrup, EdgeHealth has been joined by Melissa Heike. Melissa holds a Masters Degree in Marketing from Eastern Michigan University and will serve as the marketing manager for the new company. Other members of the leadership team will be announced at a later date.

The vision behind MacBeedon Partners is to create an entrepreneurial epicenter in the Great Lakes region to encourage a positive entrepreneurial spirit that will promote new venture creation and drive the growth of our 21st century economy. MacBeedon Partners provides the capital and entrepreneurial leadership necessary to fuel the growth of technology focused companies to create a dynamic, collaborative entrepreneurial environment.
